Packaging Conference 2019 will take place in Brussels on 21 February, with supplementary networking activities running from 20-22 February. This event is co-organised by Intergraf, FTA Europe and Smithers Pira. The conference will focus on the growing packaging industry in Europe, with particular attention paid to consumer perspectives. Speakers will present about various developments in the sector, as well as different technologies, materials and sub-sectors. Participants will also receive a complementary European Printed Packaging Market Report, prepared exclusively for this event.

DELEGATES

This event is targeted towards high-level professionals in the European packaging value chain. Delegates will include representatives from European and national industry associations, market research institutes, packaging printing companies and their suppliers, representatives of the European Commission and journalists. Other interested parties are also welcome to attend.
